

Would my conceit

John Dowland

Would my conceit, that first en- forc'd my woe, Each hour a- save midst the deep of hell I fry,
To all me is free to live or die,

Or else mine eyes which still the same Each hour all I waste and with- er where To save me re- main- eth hap

- in- crease, Might be ex- tinct, to end I sit: But that sweet hour where- in or hope: But all per-force I must

- my sor- rows so,
- I wish to die,
- a- ban- don, I,

Which now
My hope, Sith For-
are a-
tune las,
still as may di-

15
no- thing can re- lease: Whose life is death, whose not en- joy it yet, Whose hope is such, berects my hap a- slope. Where- fore to nei- ther

20
sweet each change of sour,
reav- ed of the bliss,
hap nor hope I trust,
And Which But

25
eke whose hell re- new- eth ev'- ry hour.
un- to all save me al- lot- ed is.
to my thralls I yield, for so I must.